ANDREW W. MELLON AUDITORIUM, WASHINGTON, D.C.

OUR MISSION

TO ADVANCE U.S. LEADERSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL
CONSERVATION THROUGH PUBLIC AND PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS AND DEVELOPING THE NEXT GENERATION OF CONGRESSIONAL CONSERVATION LEADERS

IT IS MY GREAT PLEASURE to welcome you to ICCF's 2018 U.S. Congressional International Conservation Gala. Tonight we are pleased to honor several individuals and organizations that have made out-standing conservation contributions and are changing the way the world thinks about conservation.

African Parks and Vulcan Inc., which we are honoring with the "Good Steward" Award and the Conservation Leadership in Business Award, are implementing models that maximize public-sector resources by bringing in innovative private-sector ideas, leading to greater sustainability and improved livelihoods.

African Parks is pioneering an effective, sustainable, and scalable model for rehabilitation and long-term management of national parks in partnership with governments and local communities. Vulcan Inc. is revolutionizing conservation efforts by applying innovative technology solutions.

We're also pleased to recognize two individuals who have changed the political landscape in the U.S. over the past two decades, introducing a bipartisan caucus model as a means of promoting U.S. leadership in international conservation. We will present Senator Sheldon Whitehouse with the prestigious Teddy Roosevelt® International Conservation Award and will recognize Chairman Ed Royce (2013 recipient of the Teddy Roosevelt® International Conservation Award) as he retires from Congress.

Tonight we also welcome Heads of State, parliamentarians, and ambassadors from around the globe. ICCF is proud to support conservation caucuses in 13 countries, based on the U.S. Congressional caucus model, where we are working to help policymakers address their respective countries' specific conservation and development challenges.

I thank you all for joining us as we showcase and celebrate innovative conservation models and out-standing conservation leadership.

Best wishes,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, which appears to read 'John Basil Gantt'. The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first name 'John' being particularly prominent.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION CAUCUS

THE U.S. CONGRESSIONAL INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION CAUCUS is inspired by the belief that the U.S. has the opportunity, the obligation, and the interests to advance the conservation of natural resources for this and future generations.

ICCF acts as an informal secretariat to the leadership of the U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus, directly supporting caucus members with nonpartisan, well researched, and timely educational resources from an unmatched network of business and nonprofit leaders.

Since 2004, ICCF has helped grow the bipartisan U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus to include one-third of the U.S. Congress.

THE OCEANS CAUCUS

THE BIPARTISAN U.S. CONGRESSIONAL OCEANS CAUCUS was established to increase awareness, promote dialogue, and find common ground in responding to issues facing the oceans and coasts.

The Oceans Caucus Foundation (OCF) is an independent program within ICCF U.S. that advances U.S. leadership in international ocean conservation by providing a platform to bring marine issues to the attention of government leaders and working with partners to provide educational programming.

OCF supports the leadership of the U.S. Congressional Oceans Caucus, educating members about the importance of oceans issues and solutions that protect oceans resources and the livelihoods that depend upon them.

BUILDING POLITICAL WILL

MORE THAN A DECADE AGO, ICCF's founders recognized governance as a significant limiting factor in sustainable conservation.

ICCF was founded to meet the need by building political will for international conservation.

ICCF supports the leadership of the U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus (ICC). It brings together major conservation NGOs and corporate partners to support educational programs for the ICC. This partnership has grown to include more than 50 corporations and NGOs.

ICCF quickly realized that this model should be shared. The ICCF Group was created as an umbrella organization to build and support ICCF organizations all over the world. We are building and supporting international parliamentary conservation caucuses and working with a wide network of partners to find innovative solutions to complex conservation challenges.

The ICCF Group:

- Inspires and empowers policymakers to develop good policies and legislation;
- Strengthens judicial capacity to enforce laws;
- Showcases successful conservation models;
- Facilitates effective partnerships between the public and private sectors;
- Provides on-the-ground conservation expertise through its International Conservation Corps.

OUR WORK ON THE GROUND AROUND THE WORLD

THE ICCF GROUP'S INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION CORPS

is made up of experienced veterans from U.S. and Canadian land management agencies (such as the U.S. National Park Service, U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Bureau of Land Management, and U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, among others) who travel to partner nations around the world to provide high-level, low-cost expertise.

International Conservation Corps projects complement The ICCF Group's work with policymakers and the work of our partners around the globe on a range of conservation issues such as forestry, wildlife, national parks & protected areas, oceans & rivers, and fisheries.

TRIBUTE TO ED ROYCE

NEARLY TWO DECADES AGO, Chairman Ed Royce joined Congressmen John Tanner, Clay Shaw, and Tom Udall in launching the historic Congo Basin Forest Partnership (CBFP). Chairman Royce authored the legislation for the CBFP and led efforts to secure its passage. This remarkable effort resulted in the protection of more than 10,000 square miles of land in Gabon and brings together some 85 partners, including African countries, donor agencies and governments, international organizations, NGOs, scientific institutions and the private sector, working to coordinate efforts to sustain forest resources in the Congo Basin.

Inspired by the success of the CBFP, Chairman Royce proposed the establishment of an International Conservation Caucus in the U.S. House of Representatives, and in 2001 the caucus was born. The success of this caucus inspired the launch of a companion caucus in the U.S. Senate and the creation of the International Conservation Caucus Foundation (ICCF) to support the leadership of these caucuses. Chairman Royce has remained extremely active in the ICC, where he has served as Co-Chair since its launch.

Chairman Royce has played a key leadership role in advancing conservation legislation in the U.S. and in promoting political will for conservation in governments around the world. Under his leadership, the House of Representatives has passed The Eliminate, Neutralize, and Disrupt (END) Wildlife Trafficking Act and the Defending Economic Livelihoods and Threatened Animals (DELTA) Act, among many others.

We commend Chairman Royce for his extraordinary conservation leadership, which has greatly impacted the biodiversity and lives of people around the world. We wish him all the best as he retires from Congress.

AWARDEES

ICCF TEDDY ROOSEVELT® INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION' AWARD

The ICCF Teddy Roosevelt® International Conservation Award recognizes outstanding conservation leadership in government.

THE HON. SHELDON WHITEHOUSE United States Senator

Senator Sheldon Whitehouse has demonstrated extraordinary leadership for oceans conservation in the U.S. Senate—co-founding and galvanizing the growth of the U.S. Senate Oceans Caucus, spearheading legislation such as the Save Our Seas (S.O.S.) Act and the Illegal, Unreported, and Unregulated Fishing Enforcement Act of 2015, and recruiting, educating, and inspiring a new generation of U.S. Senators committed to oceans conservation.

ICCF BUSINESS LEADERSHIP AWARD

The ICCF Conservation Leadership in Business Award recognizes outstanding private-sector conservation leadership

VULCAN INC. Mr. Bill Hilf, Chief Executive Officer, Vulcan

Vulcan Inc., a Paul G. Allen company, is working to integrate technology, data, policy, partnerships, and powerful storytelling to save endangered species and improve ocean health, among many other initiatives. In 2016 Vulcan completed the Great Elephant Census (GEC), the first-ever continent-wide aerial survey of African savanna elephants. Vulcan also provides technological platforms to assist in detecting and identifying vessels fishing illegally; to help park rangers and managers address technical challenges monitoring wildlife; and to help understand, promote the health of, and map coral reefs and the animals that depend on them.

ICCF'S 'GOOD STEWARD' AWARD

ICCF's "Good Steward" Award is presented to recognize outstanding individual leadership in conservation. This year we are pleased to honor Mr. Peter Fearnhead, CEO of African Parks.

AFRICAN PARKS Mr. Peter Fearnhead, Chief Executive Officer

African Parks, one of the foremost conservation organizations working on the ground in partnership with governments, is credited with pioneering the concept of public-private partnerships in protected area management. They are achieving great success by implementing an effective, sustainable, and scalable model in which they assume full responsibility for the rehabilitation and long-term management of national parks in partnership with governments and local communities. African Parks currently manages 15 national parks and protected areas in nine African countries, protecting 10.5 million hectares.

SHELDON,

We are incredibly grateful for your commitment and leadership in protecting nature and the essential services it provides us.

Roger and Vicki Sant
