WELCOME

A MESSAGE FROM

JOHN B. GANTT

Welcome to the 2023 ICCF U.S. Congressional International Conservation Leadership Gala. Tonight's theme is "Celebrating and raising awareness about the importance of public/private conservation partnerships," and we are honored by the presence of so many inspirational leaders from across sectors who are achieving great success through innovative partnerships.

We are pleased to have the opportunity to recognize Jeff Bezos, Lauren Sanchez, and the Bezos Earth Fund with the ICCF "Good Steward" Award for their outstanding conservation commitment and to honor Chairwoman Kay Granger with the ICCF Teddy Roosevelt® International Conservation Award for her leadership in consistently securing and growing U.S. Government support for international conservation. We are also honored to welcome special guest H.E. Santiago Pena, newly inaugurated President of Paraguay, whose administration is eager to welcome opportunities for public-private partnership for sustainable economic development and the conservation of Paraguay's natural resources.

Tonight we also recognize the leadership of the International Conservation Caucus in advancing innovative ways to finance international conservation with the introduction of the bipartisan U.S. Foundation for International Conservation Act, which would establish a new financing mechanism for conservation in which private donations are leveraged by government funding to secure effective long-term management of ecosystems through a U.S.-led public-private grantmaking partnership. We applaud the many members of the caucus who have led on this initiative, as well as our many private-sector partners who have lent their support.

Thank you for joining us this evening as we recognize and celebrate outstanding conservation leadership and partnerships.

Best wishes,

John B. Gantt
Chief Executive Officer

U.S. CONGRESSIONAL INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION CAUCUS

The U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus, the oldest and most developed conservation caucus in the world, is inspired by the belief that the U.S. has the opportunity, the obligation, and the interests to advance the conservation of natural resources for this and future generations. The International Conservation Caucus Foundation (ICCF) acts as an informal secretariat to the leadership of the U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus, directly supporting caucus members with nonpartisan, well researched, and timely educational resources from an unmatched network of business and nonprofit leaders. Since 2006, ICCF has helped grow the bipartisan U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus to include one-third of the U.S. Congress.

U.S. CONGRESSIONAL OCEANS CAUCUS

The bipartisan U.S. Congressional Oceans Caucus was established to increase awareness, promote dialogue, and find common ground in responding to issues facing the oceans and coasts. The Oceans Caucus Foundation (OCF) is an independent program within ICCF U.S. that advances U.S. leadership in international ocean conservation by providing a platform to bring marine issues to the attention of government leaders and working with partners to provide educational programming. OCF supports the leadership of the U.S. Congressional Oceans Caucus, educating members about the importance of oceans issues and solutions that protect oceans resources and the livelihoods that depend upon them.

Regional headquarters

The ICCF Group has offices in the United States (ICCF U.S.), Africa (ICCF Kenya), Europe (ICCF-UK), Asia (ICCF Indonesia), and Latin America (ICCF Colombia). Each ICCF office is established as a separate legal entity, registered in the host country, with its own Board of Directors. These entities have charitable status in their respective countries, and their role is to further the mission of the ICCF Group. These separate legal entities are bound by a collaboration agreement that ensures a common purpose for all.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION CAUCUS FOUNDATION

IN WASHINGTON, D.C., ICCF ADVANCES
U.S. LEADERSHIP IN INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION THROUGH PUBLIC AND PRIVATE PARTNERSHIPS AND DEVELOPING THE NEXT GENERATION OF CONSERVATION LEADERS IN THE U.S. CONGRESS.

ICCF was founded in 2006 to support the leadership of the bipartisan U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus (ICC). ICCF brings together major conservation NGOs and corporate partners to support educational programs for the ICC. This partnership has grown to include more than 50 corporations and NGOs.

ICCF's founders recognized governance as the missing piece in modern conservation efforts. The ICCF Group was founded to fill this gap in countries around the world. People care deeply about our planet but often need guidance and support to improve laws and policies, strengthen enforcement, and find the right technologies to address specific issues. The ICCF Group provides this support and brings together a wide network of partners to find innovative solutions to complex conservation challenges.

THE ICCF GROUP'S INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION CORPS

OUR WORK ON THE GROUND, AROUND THE WORLD

The ICCF Group's International Conservation Corps is made up of experienced veterans from U.S. and Canadian land management agencies (such as the U.S. National Park Service, U.S. Forest Service, U.S. Bureau of Land Management, and U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, among others) who travel to partner nations around the world to provide high-level, low-cost expertise.

International Conservation Corps projects complement the ICCF Group's work with policymakers and the work of our partners around the globe on a range of conservation issues such as forestry, wildlife, national parks & protected areas, oceans & rivers, and fisheries.

CAUCUS CO-CHAIRS INTRODUCE BIPARTISAN USFIC ACT

Leaders of the U.S. Congressional International Conservation Caucus have introduced the bipartisan U.S. Foundation for International Conservation Act (USFICA). Senator Chris Coons (D-DE) and Senator Lindsey Graham (R-SC) introduced the bill in the Senate, along with Senators John Boozman (R-AR), Martin Heinrich (D-NM), Thom Tillis (R-NC), and Sheldon Whitehouse (D-RI). Representatives David Joyce (R-OH), Betty McCollum (D-MN), Chris Stewart (R-UT), and Henry Cuellar (D-TX) introduced the House version.

The bipartisan measure would establish and appropriate funds for a charitable nonprofit, independent of the United States government, to carry out activities to promote the long-term management of protected and conserved areas in developing countries; work to identify and support implementation-ready projects that would benefit indigenous peoples and local communities; and encourage, accept, and administer private funds as leveraged by public contributions.

This new public-private partnership can mobilize significant new funding from both public and private sources to help solidify the type of long-term funding and resources required for the effective management of protected and conserved areas while leveraging the strengths of both sectors for years to come.

A long list of CEOs and philanthropists have already committed to partnering with the USFIC, including:

- Simon Chaplin, CEO, Arcadia Fund
- Andrew Steer, President & CEO, Bezos Earth Fund
- Wendy J. Paulson, Chairman, Bobolink Foundation
- Laurene Powell Jobs, Founder and President, Emerson Collective
- Harvey V. Fineberg, President, Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation
- Molly Bartlett, Executive Director, International Conservation Fund of Canada
- Peter Seligmann, CEO, Nia Tero
- James Deutsch, CEO, Rainforest Trust
- Wes Sechrest, CEO and Chair, Re:wild
- Rob Walton, Co-President, Rob & Melani Walton Foundation
- Molly McUsic, President, The Wyss Foundation

THE ICCF GOOD STEWARD AWARD

CCF's Good Steward Award is presented to recognize outstanding individual leadership in conservation.

AWARDED TO JEFF BEZOS, LAUREN SÁNCHEZ, AND THE BEZOS EARTH FUND

The ICCF Group is pleased to present this year's ICCF Good Steward Award to Jeff Bezos, Lauren Sánchez, and the Bezos Earth Fund for their commitment to nature protection and addressing climate change in this decade. The Bezos Earth Fund, which was established with a record-breaking $10 billion commitment from Jeff Bezos to be disbursed as grants, is building a diverse team of thought leaders, problem solvers, and doers from scientific, government, private, and nonprofit backgrounds, all working to deliver transformational change. The organization aims to harness the best of human ingenuity, adaptability, and collective action to create a future in which everyone can thrive.

The Bezos Earth Fund is spurring innovation and progress through seven key programs: Conserving & Restoring Nature; Future of Food; Environmental Justice; Decarbonizing Energy & Industry; Economics, Finance, & Markets; Next Technologies; and Monitoring, Data, & Accountability. It has provided more than $1.84 billion through nearly 200 grants.

JEFF BEZOS, EXECUTIVE CHAIR,
BEZOS EARTH FUND

Jeff Bezos founded Amazon.com in 1994. Amazon's mission is to be Earth's most customer-centric company. In 2019, under Bezos' leadership, Amazon and Global Optimism co-founded The Climate Pledge, a commitment for companies to achieve net-zero carbon by 2040—with 300+ signatories to date and counting.

In 2020, Bezos founded the Bezos Earth Fund, a $10 billion commitment to fund scientists, activists, NGOs, and others to drive climate and nature solutions in this decisive decade. Funds will be fully allocated by 2030, the date by which the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals must be achieved.

He also founded the Bezos Day One Fund to provide grants to nonprofits to help homeless families and is creating a network of preschools in low-income communities. Bezos is also the founder of aerospace company Blue Origin, which is working on the long-term goal of moving all polluting and heavy industry off Earth to preserve the planet.

He is the owner of the Washington Post. Bezos graduated summa cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa in electrical engineering and computer science from Princeton University in 1986 and was named TIME magazine's Person of the Year in 1999.

LAUREN SÁNCHEZ, VICE CHAIR OF THE BEZOS EARTH FUND

Lauren Sánchez is an Emmy Award-winning journalist and former news anchor. Following a successful news career, Sánchez, a licensed pilot, founded Black Ops Aviation in 2016. The company is the first female-owned and operated aerial film and production company with a focus across television and film.

Sánchez serves as the Vice Chair of the Bezos Earth Fund and is dedicated to fighting climate change and the protection of nature, as well as early childhood education, programming, and housing support. She also works with organizations including This is About Humanity, an organization dedicated to raising awareness and providing support for separated and reunified families at the U.S.-Mexico border, and the Bezos Day One Fund, which encompasses shelter, hunger, and tuition-free preschool education support for underserved communities via the Day 1 Families Fund and Day 1 Academies Fund, among others.

THE ICCF TEDDY ROOSEVELT® INTERNATIONAL CONSERVATION AWARD

The ICCF Teddy Roosevelt® International Conservation Award recognizes outstanding leadership in conservation policy. We are pleased to present this year's award to House Appropriations Committee Chairwoman Kay Granger.

CHAIRWOMAN KAY GRANGER

Over many years, Chairwoman Granger has demonstrated extraordinary leadership in securing U.S. funding for international conservation. She has sponsored legislation designating substantial resources to combat the illegal wildlife trade and co-sponsored bipartisan legislation such as the END Wildlife Trafficking Act and the Multinational Species Conservation Fund Reauthorization Act.

In 1997, Chairwoman Granger became the first Republican woman to represent Texas in the U.S. House of Representatives, and in 2022, she was elected by her colleagues to serve as the Chairwoman of the House Appropriations Committee, a committee on which she has served in various roles for more than two decades. She was previously the first Republican woman to sit on the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee and went on to serve as the Subcommittee Chairwoman.

TRIBUTE TO ROB PORTMAN

CCF wishes to extend our heartfelt thanks to Hon. Rob Portman for his many years of outstanding conservation leadership. In 2006, ICCF presented him with the first-ever Teddy Roosevelt® International Conservation Award in recognition of his contribution as author of the 1998 Tropical Forest Conservation Act (TFCA), which has resulted in the protection of millions of acres of tropical forests and watersheds.

Elected to Congress in 1993, then-Congressman Portman served in the House of Representatives for 12 years. In 2005, he was appointed United States Trade Representative, and in 2006 he was nominated and confirmed as Director of the Office of Management and Budget. He then returned to Congress, where he represented Ohio in the U.S. Senate from 2011 until his retirement earlier this year.

As co-chair of the International Conservation Caucus, Senator Portman worked tirelessly to protect natural resources and wildlife. In just the past few years, he introduced legislation to: reauthorize the Tropical Forest and Coral Reef Conservation Act, reauthorize the Multinational Species Conservation Funds Semipostal Stamp Act, eliminate shark fin sales, protect migratory birds, and promote nature-based climate solutions. He also led on issues such as reforestation, carbon capture, water, fisheries, energy, national parks, and waste management.

We commend Senator Portman for his extraordinary conservation leadership, which has greatly impacted the planet and the lives of people around the world. We wish him all the best in his retirement from Congress.

IN MEMORIAM: GUSTAVO FONSECA

CCF mourns the loss of Global Environment Facility (GEF) Director of Programs Gustavo Fonseca.

During his career as a tropical scientist, which spanned more than three decades, Gustavo worked with, trained, and mentored hundreds of conservationists. He was a champion of protected spaces for biodiversity and was committed to working across sectors and silos for lasting change. Under his leadership, the GEF dramatically scaled up its financial support for countries' efforts to address biodiversity loss, climate change, and pollution together and in partnership with the private sector.

Before joining the GEF in 2007, Gustavo served as Chief Conservation and Science Officer at Conservation International, Founder of the Center for Applied Biodiversity, and tenured Professor of Zoology and Ecology at the Federal University of Minas Gerais in Brazil. He received a Master's degree in Latin American Studies and a Ph.D. in Forest Management and Conservation from the University of Florida and published more than 170 articles and books, making a significant scientific contribution to the planning, creation, and management of protected areas and biodiversity hotspots.

He received the Oliver Austin Award for outstanding research in the natural sciences, the University of Florida's Distinguished Alumnus Award, the Environmental Protection Award of Government of the State of Minas Gerais, the Distinguished Service Recognition award from the Brazil Biodiversity Fund (Funbio), and the Golden Ark Award, the highest conservation award of Netherlands.

Gustavo was greatly admired, widely respected, and well liked by all who knew him, and he will be greatly missed.

THE GLOBAL ENVIRONMENT FACILITY

The ICCF Group thanks the Global Environment Facility (GEF) for supporting the 2023 International Policymaker Conference and the ICCF U.S. Congressional International Conservation Leadership Awards Gala.

The Global Environment Facility (GEF) is a family of funds dedicated to confronting biodiversity loss, climate change, pollution, and strains on land and ocean health. Its grants, blended financing, and policy support helps developing countries address their biggest environmental priorities and adhere to international environmental conventions. Over the past three decades, the GEF has provided more than $23 billion and mobilized $129 billion in co-financing for more than 5,000 national and regional projects.

The U.S. Congress, together with other global donors to the GEF, makes it possible for them to conduct the important work of protecting our planet's fragile natural resources, and we thank you on behalf of our entire network of supporters.

NATIONAL FISH AND WILDLIFE FOUNDATION

The National Fish and Wildlife Foundation (NFWF) thanks Jeff Bezos and Lauren Sánchez for their dedication to conservation around the world, providing a shining example of tonight's ICCF theme: the power of public/private partnerships in action.
